

Hopkins-Bond Genealogy Biographical Notes

Owen Johnston Hopkins (June 14, 1844-November 18, 1902) and Julia Sophronia Allison Hopkins (August 15, 1846-February 15, 1907) had seven children.

Annie Allison Hopkins Craig was born April 10, 1866 in Toledo and died March 1941 in California.

Oliver Perry Hopkins was born September 10, 1868 in Toledo and died June 29, 1929 in Columbus, Ohio.

Frederick and an unnamed infant died young.

Cordelia Oswald Hopkins was born March 16, 1875 in Toledo and died unmarried December 23, 1965 in California.

Charles Benjamin Hopkins was born October 23, 1882 in Toledo and died July 4, 1934 in California.

Julia Seney Hopkins Bond was born December 11, 1887 in Toledo, Ohio. She married Otto F. Bond on November 27, 1913 in Toledo, Ohio. Otto was a professor of romance languages at the University of Chicago for thirty-six years. Julia died February 6, 1965 in California; Otto died in California on February 17, 1980.

Julia Hopkins Bond and her two daughters, Cordelia and Julia Seney were active genealogical researchers.

Hopkins-Bond Genealogy Scope and Contents Notes

The Local History Department received this collection of genealogical research in 1966 from the estate of Cordelia O. Hopkins. It appears that Cordelia's sister, Julia Bond did much, if not most, of the research in this collection. Her work was filed in notebooks, each of which was re-housed in its own folder. Some of the notebook labels had fallen off or had been rubbed off; otherwise, the folders are labeled as the notebooks had been. One box held unsorted materials, which have been filed by the initial letter of the surnames.

While much of her research was on the Hopkins line, a large part dealt with the Israel surname. An ancestor, Basil Israel, was a Revolutionary War patriot. Julia and Cordelia were members of Fort Industry Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.
